

Instructions on how to get to county-level data

- The COVID-19 data dashboard on Vaccinations displays data on all counties in the state of Washington as default.

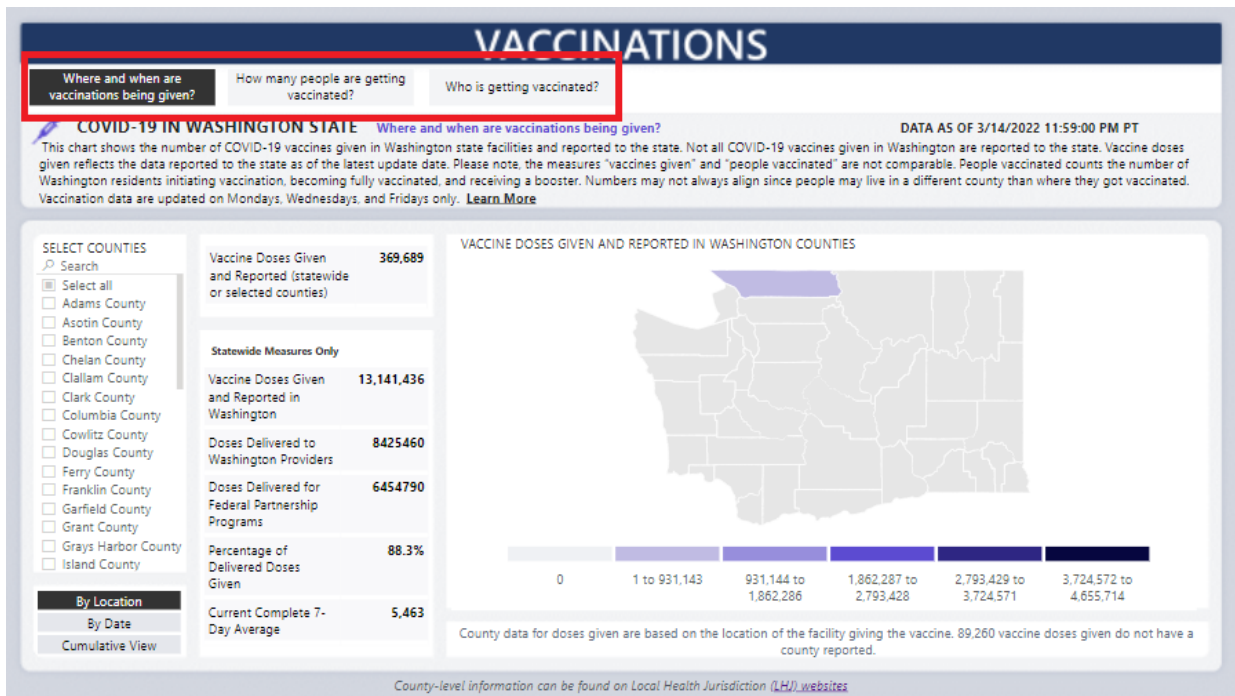

- To display data from a specific county, you must select the desired county (or counties) from the "SELECT COUNTIES" box on the left side of the dashboard.

- To unselect a county, click on the box again so that it is unchecked.

- To view more data, explore the tabs on the top of the dashboard.

- When exploring the "Who is getting vaccinated?" tab, you will need to select the "County" option at the top next to the "Statewide" option in order to filter the results by county.

- To filter results by demographic information under “Who is getting vaccinated?”, select one of the options in the upper righthand corner. You may choose from “Sex”, “Age”, and “Race/Ethnicity”.
